His Excellency, The President's New Year's Speech

Given on the Occasion of the Lunar New Year by His Excellency, President Kevin Baugh, 10 February 2024 XLVII

My Fellow Molossians, Greetings.

This past year was one of great accomplishment. From diplomacy abroad to growth and accomplishment at home, Molossia has time and again shown itself to be an amazing place to live and flourish. Our citizens ever seek to live happy lives, to bring out their best, and to realize their dreams. Daily our people build their lives and achieve their dreams, and daily their successes and prosperity make those dreams come true. Our uniqueness as a nation makes these dreams, this prosperity happen. Though our nation is tiny, it has so much to offer. Our combined efforts have made Molossia an affluent and dynamic state, outward-looking and active in the concerns of nations, as well as thriving at home. We must continue to mobilize our efforts

Molossia's Time Capsule

29 February 2024 XLVII

Starting 12 years ago, every four years the Government of the Republic of Molossia has buried a Time Capsule in Red Square. The Molossian Time Capsule is our emissary to the future, a messenger from then to now. Last deposited in front of the President's Office on Leap Day, 29 February 2020 XLIII, it was dug up today, Leap Day, 29 February 2024 XLVII, four years later. Before a crowd of Molossians, the capsule from the past was opened, and inside were found photographs, letters to the future from Molossian citizens, a National Enquirer magazine and miscellaneous knick-knacks from the Molossian Family. After examining the mementos from four years past, the Time Capsule was filled with a new round of notes and keepsakes and returned to the soil from which it so recently emerged. For the next four years our Time Capsule will again sit undisturbed beneath Red Square, only to be opened with great fanfare by the future us. Who knows what that future will bring and how we will look back upon the present when the capsule is opened. Here's to the future of Molossia and the celebration of our present!

and devote all our energy to the cause of peace, mutual acceptance, and solidarity toward better lives for all Molossians.

Molossia's exceptionality is our shield against the problems that beset so many of other nations. We cannot predict the future, but we can prepare for it. We may not foresee it, but we must build it. The year ahead, like all, heralds many challenges but also holds rich promise. And so, we enter this New Year in high spirits and with great confidence. While we are of course bound to encounter headwinds, by reaching out to each other in adversity we will meet challenges head-on and overcome all difficulties.

In this coming year, then, I speak to all Molossians and wish to you all the best. I pledge to continue to lead you as best I can, to be your mentor and your partner. I am not the nation, we all are. And together we shall continue to build toward a great future for all Molossians.

God Bless You.

Long Live Molossia! !

Return to the Odeon Hall

24 February 2024 XLVII

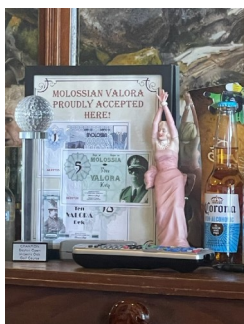

On Saturday, 24 February 2024 XLVII The President and First Lady returned to the historic Odeon Hall, in Dayton, Nevada. The First Couple spoke at the Odeon Hall in July 2023 XLVI, and were brought back by popular demand to speak again. The purpose was to talk all about our great nation, spreading the word about Molossia to yet another audience. The Odeon Hall is a historic saloon and dance hall that was built in 1863, and has hosted such celebrities as Mark Twain and Adolph Sutro among its patrons and speakers. Recently remodeled and reopened, the Odeon hosts talks and presentations, among them our President. For over an hour His Excellency and the First Lady spoke about Molossia before a crowd of rapt listeners, showing pictures of our nation and answering questions. The audience was very appreciative and applauded frequently, enjoying the idea of a self-declared nation right down the road. In addition, Molossia's signature drink, the Molossolini was added last year to the Odeon Saloon menu, and has since proven to be quite popular. Subsequent to the Odeon talk the First Couple rode on the railroad speeder across the street from the Hall, proclaimed in 2018 XLI to be the official speeder of the Republic of Molossia. It was wonderful to be able to share the stories, culture and mere existence of Molossia, and we look forward to future opportunities to do so.

Around Molossia...

Inspired as always by former President Trump’s inspiring inspirationalisms, specifically the call to install an alligator-filled moat along the southern edge of the US to repel migrants, we here in Molossia have created our own border security installation, the dreaded Croc Pond. This of course includes a nod to our friends in Slowjamastan, and their aversion to Crocs. We are certain this new contrivance will henceforth effectively repel unwanted visitors to our nation!

Coming soon, on 6 March, the Day of the Dude! In honor of The Dude himself, it’s a day of great easy taking as we strive to do as little as possible. Probably celebrated by going bowling and drinking White Russians!

Happy Lunar New Year, the symbolic beginning of Molossia’s year!

Did You Know...?

Molossia’s war with East Germany turned 40 last November - 40 years and still going strong, with no injuries so far, the safest war ever!

The Last Word With The First Lady

Hello all March is here! Soon we can say that spring has arrived, but today Molossia is blanketed in white as a large storm pushed us back into winter. You know how that American weather blows right over our borders!

For now, we can sit and plan all the fun things that we aim to do this spring. What road trips will we take, which flowers will we plant? Our newest canine citizen Woola has just completed all of her shots and is finally ready to be out in the world with other dogs. We cannot wait to take her on some walks both inside of Molossia and across the border in the US. Much like us, she loved to explore! Some of our springtime plans include exploring the newly formed lake in Death Valley, and the biggest event so far this year will be a big family quest to Florida. Our son Bryce will marry his long time partner Jazzy and she will become a Molossian citizen! Hooray!

Whether it's big events or small side quests around your home, springtime is a time for new beginnings. If you can't get out of the house today, what can you do inside? Maybe some spring cleaning? We all have that little pile that's been looking at us.. Let's start fresh this spring and see what fun comes our way!

Thank you all and until next time, be the fun you want to see in the world! ~Adrienne
